

Leftovers

Some things get better with age, especially XPLR ride destinations that just don't make it into any other theme! That's right, today's theme is just... XPLRing. We will visit several interesting places in West Philly, but the rest is up to you. Tell a story with your photos or just snap away! There should be plenty of action at each stop.

About the ride: 3.7 mi

About the photog: indoors and outdoors

1. 30th Street Station

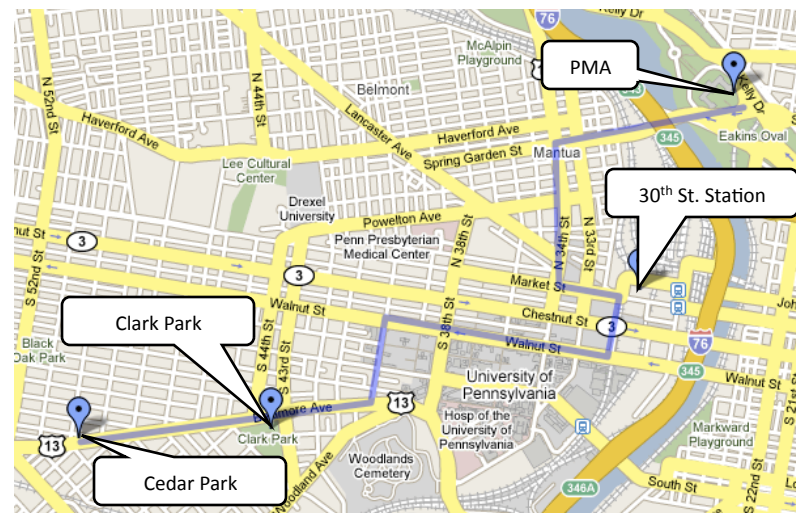

The 20,000 commuters that pass through this station every day should provide plenty of interesting subjects. If you need a little more inspiration, point your camera at the building itself. Built in 1925, the massive art deco main hall can be a challenge to photograph.

2. Clark Park

Capture the mood of this park in the heart of University City – a very different vibe than Philly's center city parks.

3. Cedar Park

In the 80's and early 90's, the Cedar Park neighborhood was notorious for attracting crime. Since about 2000, the area has undergone a lot of gentrification and is now a trendy hangout. Be sure to check out the Dock Street brewery and Firehouse Bicycles at the corner of 50th and Baltimore Streets.

Upload your photos and send them to our Flickr group. Tag them with 'XPLR' and 'leftovers'.

ABOUT XPLR:

A camera is your license to explore the world, and your relationship to it. Where has your license taken you recently? Part inspiration part perspiration, XPLR (explore!) events seek to unite individuals that are passionate about art and urban exploration. Meetings take place at the Philadelphia Art Museum steps. The actual subject matter and shooting location will be kept secret until the day of the event and will be disclosed at the PMA. Join us in our pursuit of creativity, or just for a fun bike ride.
