

Movable Parts

Kinetic art contains movable components and can be powered by wind or motor. Today we'll catch human powered sculptures at the Kensington Kinetic Sculpture Derby. The derby is not a race, but a design competition and parade celebrating human powered-transit and art in Kensington.

Sat, May 16, 12PM at the steps of the Philadelphia Museum of Art.

About the ride: 3.7 miles

About the photog: kinetic art, costumes, crafts

Bike Valet (Frankford Ave and Dauphin Sts)

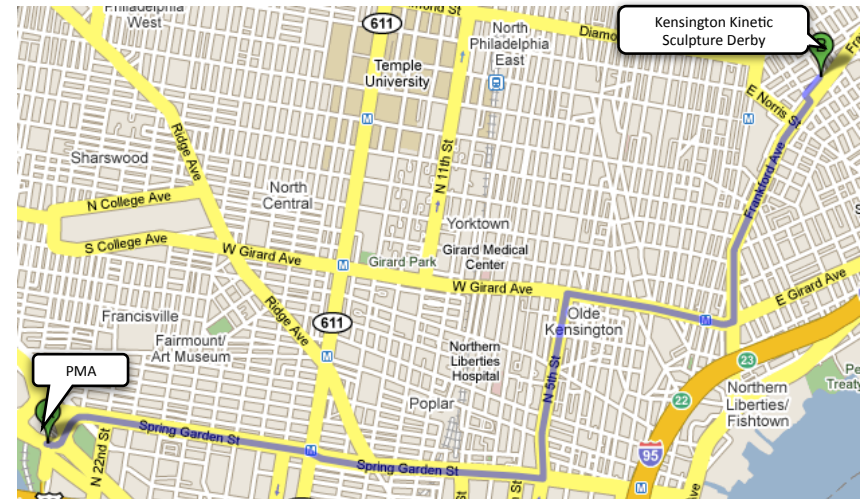

Park your bike so you are free to wander. The bike valet is courtesy of Neighborhood Bike Works, an organization that promotes cycling to Philadelphia youth!

Kinetic Sculpture Derby (Trenton Ave and Dauphin St)

Follow the derby route for all the action. The parade travels down Frankford Ave to Columbia Ave then loops around Penn Treaty Park. Make sure to catch the mud pit at the finish line on Trenton Ave and Blair St and Dauphin St.

Trenton Avenue Arts Festival (2000-2300 Trenton Ave)

The arts festival will host over a hundred vendors and will feature local and regional artists, craftsmen and craftswomen. Proceeds from the arts festival will help fund the East Kensington Neighborhood Association's annual budget which sponsors neighborhood clean up projects and educational workshops.

ABOUT XPLR:

A camera is your license to explore the world, and your relationship to it. Where has your license taken you recently? Part inspiration part perspiration, XPLR (explore!) events seek to unite individuals that are passionate about art and urban exploration. Meetings take place at the Philadelphia Art Museum steps. The actual subject matter and shooting location will be kept secret until the day of the event and will be disclosed at the PMA. Join us in our pursuit of creativity, or just for a fun bike ride.
